

PRICE LIST

B101	A Case of Brilliance (book; see shipping rates on order form)	$16.99
	DON'T REMEMBER THIS (newsletter)
N101	Don't Remember This 1-year subscription (6 issues)	$15.00
N101g	Don't Remember This 1-year gift subscription (6 issues)	$15.00
N102	Don't Remember This 2-year subscription (12 issues)	$30.00
N102g	Don't Remember This 2-year gift subscription (12 issues)	$30.00
N106	Don't Remember This, Any 6 back issues; please specify on order form	$12.00
N103	Don't Remember This, Current Issue: #29 September-October Creativity and the Wild Card, Part Three: Dealing with the Wild Card is as tricky as the dance my husband, Ellis, had to perform barefoot while trying to subdue an over-excited horse.	$ 4.00

INDIVIDUAL BACK ISSUES

D101	#1 January-February 2006 How I Became a Renegade Music Teacher: Experiments in right-brain teaching which led me to my philosophy of extemporaneous learning.	$ 3.50
D102	#2 March-April 2006 Damage Detection and Repair, Part One: Profile of Alice, my cello student who mistakenly thought she was tone deaf. Reveals the special educational needs of a highly gifted 17-year-old.	$ 3.50
D103	#3 May-June 2006 Damage Detection and Repair, Part Two: The spectacular turnaround of a brilliant, creative 14-year-old boy who had been so damaged by his education that he thought he was slow and untalented.	$ 3.50
D104	#4 July-August 2006 Damage Detection and Repair, Part Three: In extemporaneous learning, specific information is a trap.	$ 3.50
D105	#5 September-October 2006 The Naturally Curly Learning Style: Charlie, one of the most stubborn students I ever taught, leads me to a new theory of learning.	$ 3.50

Send orders to:

Hein Family Enterprises, Inc.
10205 W. Hwy. 220
Casper, WY 82604
www.rebeccahein.com
1-888-921-9595

DON'T REMEMBER THIS

Individual Back Issues, continued

D106	#6 November-December 2006 Achievement vs. Development: Achievement is performance, whether musical, academic, or professional. Development is the all-out struggle to find your own answers, a process I imposed on my cello students.	$ 3.50
D201-7	#7 January-February 2007 Teaching Sense: The problem with traditional music teaching and how I solved it.	$ 3.50
D202-8	#8 March-April 2007 Mistakes, Part One: Big ideas arrive in waves, and the first effect of a wave is to capsize the canoe. Thus a cluster of mistakes can precede a major insight.	$ 3.50
D203-9	#9 May-June 2007 Mistakes, Part Two: Anna, a near-beginner, struggles with one of the most difficult scales, F-sharp major. Her slow but discernible progress includes mistakes that move around.	$ 3.50
D204-10	#10 July-August 2007 Mistakes, Part Three: Saturation sharpens your senses and shows you things that nobody else can see.	$ 3.50
D205-11	#11 September-October 2007 You Can't Beat a Good Mistake: Motivated students do their best work through a wide-open approach.	$ 3.50
D206-12	#12 November-December 2007 Cycles of Harmony: Subconscious learning improves my cello playing and cures my insomnia.	$ 3.50
D301-13	#13 January-February 2008 Harmony, Part One: With perfect practicing I play in tune with the Muse.	$ 3.50
D302-14	#14 March-April 2008 Harmony, Part Two: The silent authority of form dictates the shape of a masterpiece.	$3.50
D303-15	#15 May-June 2008 Harmony, Part Three: My dedication to excellence proves its worth.	$3.50
D304-16	#16 July-August 2008 Our Research Culture: Our society-wide emphasis on research conveys the wrong message to children.	$3.50
D305-17	#17 September-October 2008 The Effect of the Muse on Gifted Children: Creative children become angry and depressed when their abilities are denied.	$3.50
D306-18	#18 November-December 2008 Why Extemporaneous Work Succeeds: The best creative work reflects a perfect balance of intuition and conscious thought.	$3.50
D401-19	#19 January-February 2009 Absent Mind, Present Mind, Part One: In his cello lessons my six-year-old son, Lewis, teaches me about his right-brain learning style.	$3.50
D402-20	#20 March-April 2009 Absent Mind, Present Mind, Part Two: I learn from my seven-year-old son, Lewis, that his inner creative voice speaks more loudly to him than anything else.	$3.50

Send orders to:

Hein Family Enterprises, Inc.
10205 W. Hwy. 220
Casper, WY 82604
www.rebeccahein.com
1-888-921-9595

DON'T REMEMBER THIS

Individual Back Issues, continued

- |         |  |        |
|---------|--|--------|
| D403-21 | #21 May-June 2009 Absent Mind, Present Mind, Part Three: My first encounter with the Muse helps me understand the plight of the gifted child who can't pay attention.  | $3.50 |
| D404-22 | #22 July-August 2009 Subconscious Problem Solving, Part One: The cure for my weak hip materializes out of nowhere, leading me on a twenty-year quest to account for this phenomenon.   |        |
| D405-23 | #23 September-October 2009 Subconscious Problem-Solving Part Two: Introducing the four stages of creative thought: Preparation, Incubation, Illumination, and Verification. With special emphasis on Incubation, I learn to work around my lifelong case of Temporomandibular Jaw Syndrome as well as a more recent vision problem, Convergence Insufficiency. | $3.50 |
| D406-24 | #24 November-December 2009 Subconscious Problem-Solving Part Three: My cure for writer's cramp requires thirty years of conscious preparation, but my intuitive solution is worth the effort.  | $3.50 |
| D501-25 | #25 January-February 2010 Chewing on a Problem: A mistake with my liver leads to my best insight yet.  | $3.50 |
| D502-26 | #26 March-April 2010 Chewing on a Problem, Part Two: A long struggle leads in the right direction, culminating in a successful resolution.   | $3.50 |
| D503-27 | #27 May-June 2010 Creativity and the Wild Card, Part One: The unknown element in creativity is also the most exciting. As such, it leads us on hazardous but productive paths.   | $3.50 |
| D504-28 | #28 July-August 2010 Creativity and the Wild Card, Part Two: My discoveries in right brain cello teaching lead to significant improvements in writing. Then it all goes haywire because I find myself shadow-boxing with a hidden force that thwarts my creativity but is also part of it.   | $3.50 |

Send orders to:

Hein Family Enterprises, Inc.
10205 W. Hwy. 220
Casper, WY 82604
www.rebeccahein.com
1-888-921-9595

Name _____
 Address _____
 City _____ State _____ Zip _____
 Phone _____ e-mail _____

Ship to (if different from above)

Name _____
 Address _____
 City _____ State _____ Zip _____
 Phone _____ e-mail _____

Item No.	Description	Quan.	Unit Price	Total Price
			Subtotal
			Wyo. Sales Tax (5%)
			Shipping (A Case of Brilliance only)
			Grand Total

Media Mail: $5.00 ($3.00 each additional book)
Priority Mail $6.50 ($5.00 each additional book)

Enclose check or money order payable to:
 Hein Family Enterprises, Inc.
 10205 W. Hwy. 220
 Casper, WY 82604
 www.rebeccahein.com
 1-888-921-9595